

Prototyping in Mechanism Science

Speaker: Daniel Huczala

Abstract: The aim of this talk is to present tools and possibilities of transferring the theoretical outcomes into 3D-printed mechanism prototypes in simple and fast steps, and how the synergy between mathematicians and engineers may bring additional findings and open new research questions. Various models that came out of such cooperation will be presented, including planar platforms or spatial linkages.