

Discontinuous Galerkin methods for elliptic problems: An overview and error analysis

S. Tomar

Johann Radon Institute for Computational and Applied Mathematics, Austrian Academy of Sciences,
Altenbergerstr. 69, A-4040 Linz, Austria satyendra.tomar@oeaw.ac.at

S. Repin

Laboratory of Mathematical Physics,
Petersburg Department of Steklov Institute of Mathematics, 27, Fontanka, 191011, St.Petersburg, Russia, repin@pdmi.ras.ru

R. Lazarov

Department of Mathematics,
Texas A&M University,
College Station, Texas 77843, USA
lazarov@math.tamu.edu

In this talk we will first present a brief overview of various discontinuous Galerkin (DG) methods for elliptic problems, followed by their a-priori error analysis. Further, preliminary numerical results of some a-posteriori error estimates will be discussed.